Today, Chartis, a comprehensive healthcare advisory firm, announced it was named a preferred vendor by the Association for Community Affiliated Plans (ACAP), a national trade association that represents not-for-profit Safety Net Health Plans.

ACAP members include 77 health plans, providing coverage to over 23 million enrollees nationally through public health coverage programs like Medicaid, Medicare, Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), and Marketplaces. The ACAP Preferred Vendor Program provides streamlined access to pre-approved vendors that are uniquely suited to address safety net health plans' needs.

"We are proud to be named a preferred vendor by ACAP," said Atul Pathiyal, President of the Payer Advisory Services practice at Chartis. "This partnership will accelerate our collective efforts to help ACAP member plans improve health outcomes, optimize medical and administrative spend, and ensure a positive member experience."

ACAP selected Chartis because of its deep experience helping health plans with growth strategies, network management and performance, social determinants of health initiatives, and total cost of care optimization.

About ACAP

The Association for Community Affiliated Plans (ACAP) is a national trade association that represents not-for-profit Safety Net Health Plans. Collectively, ACAP plans serve more than 23 million enrollees, representing nearly half of all individuals enrolled in Medicaid managed care plans. For more information, visit www.communityplans.net.
