Chartis, a comprehensive healthcare advisory firm, today announced that Ravi Kumrah has joined the firm as a Principal in Payer Advisory.

Kumrah brings over 15 years of experience in healthcare consulting. At Chartis, he will partner with national, regional, and local payers to address operational and strategic initiatives with a focus on optimizing members' total cost of care.

"Ravi has dedicated his career to advising healthcare clients, and we are thrilled to welcome him to our team," said Atul Pathiyal, Director & President, Payer Advisory at Chartis. "His passion for improving how healthcare is financed, along with his deep expertise across all payer sectors, will help our clients as they respond to the transformation taking place between payers and providers."

Prior to joining Chartis, Kumrah served as a Managing Director at AArete, a firm specializing in strategic profitability improvement for payers. He's also led high profile engagements at Berkeley Research Group and Huron Consulting, providing performance improvement advisory services for large provider clients.

Kumrah holds a Bachelor of Science from Marquette University in biomedical sciences and a Juris Doctor with a concentration in healthcare law from Indiana University's McKinney School of Law.
